EXONUMIST - EXONUMIA

By Al Zaika

Exonumia; a numismatic item not of government issue, i.e., tokens, medals, scrip.
 Exonumist; a person knowledgeable in and a collector of exonumia.

The term exonumist was coined by noted token specialist and author, Russell Rulau back in 1960. Seeing a need for a new term to describe the growing hobby of tokens and medals, he combined two ancient roots, "exo", meaning away from and "nummus", meaning a coin or money. He is also credited for the term, exonumia.

When first introduced to the hobby, these terms met with some derision and good natured ribbing, but today they have been widely accepted and are now standard nomenclature in the world of tokens and medals.

PRISON TOKENS OF THE UNITED STATES

The above, new catalog, by Jerry Zara is now available for sale. Its a complete revision of the 1980, Zara-Lemke work. It contains a complete listing of prison tokens used by inmates in jails, prisons, farms and mental institutions. listings are by state, with tentative listing of foreign prison tokens and medals. Complete descriptions of tokens, rarity guide, pictures of many of the tokens and many related items, such as buildings, cells, electric chair and paper currency are also illustrated. The catalog is of high quality paper, casebound, cloth covered and consists of 168, 8-1/2x11" size pages.

For ordering information, see Jerry's ad on the paid ad page.

NEED YOUR HELP!

The item illustrated to the right, is made of steel with a brass plate riveted on each side, with the same incused lettering on each side. Does anyone in the Hopewell area know what type of farm this was, or what this tag was used for? If so, please contact the editor.

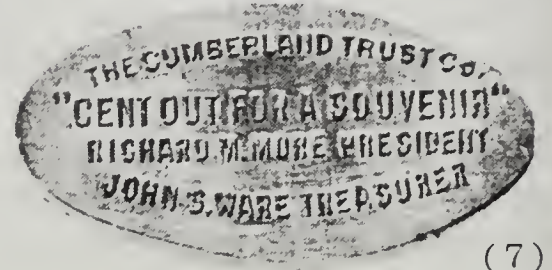

Dennis Helmer acquired some tokens at a flea market in Pennsylvania, as follows:
 Lakewood/Park/Corn Game. Blank reverse. Alum.,
 2. This is most likely from an amusement park, but there is no record of any such park in New Jersey. Perhaps some of our Penna. members can attribute this maverick.

The above elongated cent is listed in the Martin & Dow elongated catalog, in the miscellaneous section as a maverick. Rocco was able to attribute it to Bridgeton, N.J. through the bank listing in a 1914 Dun Directory.

Rocco has 15 different N.J. sections from R.G. Dun Directories and has offered to try to attribute any mavericks that our members have, that might be from New Jersey. If you have any mavericks, send them on to him, but follow these rules that he has laid down;

1. Limit your mavericks to 3 or less. 2. Send a rubbing or impression. 3. Furnish a possible location or area of the state. 4. Limit your mavericks to those with a full name of the merchant or business on it. 5. Enclose a SASE for a reply.

Thanks very much for the offer Rocco.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF THE MODERN ELONGATED
 by Angelo A. Rosato

Book Review by Curtis H. Judge

Mr. Rosato does not try to catalog the entire realm of the elongated in this work. He concentrates on the "Modern" years from 1960 to 1978. Previous years have been adequately cataloged by Dow and others. There was huge growth in interest as well as issues in the early 1960's. He tries to cover in detail these years.

The voluminous work, 1732 pages, is divided into three sections. The first gives a thorough background of the subject. Various topics include everything from production equipment, rolling technology, die work and type engravers, varieties, restrikes, counterfeits, clubs, prices, legal ordinances and various elongated novelties. The second section catalogs over 4000 elongated specimens, each with a full description as to inscription, number rolled, and on what type of coin. The third section outlines the extended important footnotes, glossaries, and title index.

This work is by far the most in depth look at any area of exnumia other than the three volumes of Atwood's Catalogs of Transportation tokens. It takes the owner the better part of several weeks of intensive reading to merely cover the first section of information. The listings will also take considerable time to digest. One needs to refer to the footnote section to read all the biographic and factual data on each coin. The author goes in great depth to discuss the background information as known on each issue. A glossary of terms that are pertinent to this area of the hobby is also included.

In total, the reviewer's opinion of this work is 100 percent positive. It is the most complete, comprehensive work on elongateds ever attempted. The encyclopedia (it really is an encyclopedia) is 1732 pages long in a 9 X 11 format. The hardbound work is assembled from high quality white paper stock with many high quality illustrations and pictures of the various coins listed. In spite of the price, this volume should have a prominent place in the library of every elongated collector and exnumia book collector.

Copies may be ordered from Angros Publishing, 70 Grove Street, New Milford, Conn. 06776.

A TWENTY-FIVE CENT TOKEN OF A DIFFERENT SHAPE
(by Robert R. Maisch)

Pathmark Supermarket in Turnersville, New Jersey is using an interesting token, issued as a convenience to their customers to be used in place of a twenty-five cent coin to release the mechanism locking the shopping carts in the cart corrals.

The red anodized aluminum token is the size of a U. S. twenty-five cent coin with a single lobe holed for key chain use. The token is serialized and the number recorded for each customer. The token is issued with a blue plastic retainer that is also holed for keychain use.

The Pathmark Supermarket has adopted the policy of interlocking their shopping carts to keep the carts cleared from the parking lot. Initially a twenty-five cent piece was necessary to unlock a cart. After shopping the customer returns the cart and when relocking the cart the coin is returned. To reduce the frustration for customers not having a quarter, bill changer machines were installed and then the use of this token was implemented.

The Pathmark Cart Control System works. In over two years I have only seen three loose shopping carts and two of these were during inclement weather. Isn't it amazing how little the reward needs to be to be a positive incentive to encourage people to do what is correct.

WHAT'S NEW IN NEW JERSEY AMUSEMENT TOKENS

by Bob and Bill Schopp

New Jersey arcades continue to put out new tokens. Some name the arcade and the town, but more and more they are using stock tokens. My son, Bill, and I have been traveling around the State looking for new amusement tokens. We thought the readers of JERSEYANA ,might want to know what arcades have new tokens.

In East Hanover on Route 10, a new arcade/birthday party place open last December. They use a 25 cent brass token for the video games and a larger white metal token ($1) for batting cages and other activities. The tokens give the name as Sports Are Us but the sign says Sports "N" Games. Perhaps they anticipated problems from Toys R' Us and changed the name after they ordered the tokens.

In Voorhees Township there are two fairly new arcade/birthday party places. One is located at Echelon Mall. The Video Village Game Room in the mall has closed. The new place is called Exhilarator and uses a brass token for party attendees. The token does not give the town name and maybe a franchise operation.

The second place in Voorhees is Sahara Sam's Adventure. They use a 22 mm brass token also without the town name. The token is dispensed from machines. Another Sahara Sam's was found on Roosevelt Boulevard in Philadelphia, but they use a 24 mm brass token. This is apparently a franchise operation.

In Point Pleasant Beach, 4 new tokens were found. South Beach Family Arcade has come out with a 25 point purple aluminum token to replace their old brass tokens. They got a new shipment of the 5 point tokens, but it is the same as the last lot. Beginning in January 1993, South Beach and Jenkinson's South Arcades stopped their interchangeability of tokens and points.

Frank's Amusements arcade in Point Pleasant Beach closed at the end of September 1992 after 20 years of operation. In April 1993, a new arcade called Frank's Fun Center opened at the same location and has 3 new aluminum tokens are very attractive.

At Manasquan Beach, Gee Gee's arcade was badly damaged in the December 1992 flood and the manager reports that all the tokens were thrown out with the machines. They have all new machines, but they now only use tickets. The tickets are from Faber's in Brooklyn New York! The Manasquan Arcade was closed for renovation and we will check it out soon.

In Asbury Park it is a sad scene to see if you saw the place thirty years ago. There is a flea market in the old Palace arcade carousel building. There is a small arcade in there that uses stock aluminum tokens and some of the brass tokens that were minted for Gadgets/Gizmos in nearby Wananassa. These are brass tokens with Looney Tunes characters on them. Unfortunately the brass tokens are in only a few machines and are very difficult to win. Three dollars of play did not yield one token.

Also in Asbury Park there is a fairly new arcade called Joey's Arcade in the building where Sandy's Arcade was located. They use two aluminum tokens that are easier to win. The old Sandy's Arcade operates a few rides and batting cages which use a brass stock token for a dollar.

Seaside Heights and Park has a few new tokens. Carousel Family Amusement Center has two new aluminum tokens in use.

Ball In Play Arcade has been bought out by Lucky Leo's. They still use about the last plastic token at the Jersey Shore in the coin fall machine. In their other machines they have quite a mix of tokens. Mostly they are the three tokens that were used by the closed Pleasure Island arcade. The Pleasure Island tokens have been painted several colors regardless of denomination which leads to a lot of varieties, if this painted tokens interest you. The manager says he has new tokens on order. He wants to convert many of his machines to issue tickets instead of tokens. This seems to be a slowly growing trend.

At Clementon Park arcade, they are using a stock token and their aluminum token. They has phased out the various colored aluminum tokens. Their coin fall machines issue tickets unfortunately.

A quick visit to Wildwood found that Gateway 26 arcade in North Wildwood had a new 5 point token with a RWM mintmark. This was not noted at the time of the visit so the other two denominations weren't checked out.

Super-Cade arcade in Wildwood where they are always "Pumping out the prizes" burned during the winter along with Nickel's Pier. They were in the process or rebuilding when checked in June. Hopefully they will have new design tokens. Before the fire they issued their own bills when tokens were turned in. They had about 6 denominations in bright colors. We are sorry we didn't get a least one of each.

The family plans a trip to Wildwood in early August and more tokens will probably be found. One other note about Wildwood is that Treasure Island arcade has been bought out by the owners of Reflections aracades of Atlantic City. They are still using two of the three Treasure Island tokens that were introduced last year. The blue token is no longer used.

In Paramus on N.J. Route 17 there is a new place called Sports World Amusement Park, but we have not visited it. We have seen a brass and a nickel plated brass token from there.

We have duplicates of most of these tokens available for trade. If anyone has news of new amusement tokens in use in New Jersey we would like to hear from them.

RARE WHITEHEAD & HOAG MINT MARK
BY GARY PATTERSON

After checking thousands of items made by Whitehead & Hoag, over the years, it took a New Jersey brass badge to come up with this rare mint mark. The company used over 17 different mint marks on their pinback buttons alone.

Some Rare And Unlisted New Jersey Obsolete Currency

By David D. Gladfe

Collectors of obsolete New Jersey currency had an opportunity to bid on some rare and unlisted notes and scrip at the November, St Louis, paper money show. Through the courtesy of Len Glazer, whose firm, Currency Auctions of America, Inc., auctioned off the notes, Jerseyana is able to provide these descriptions and illustrations of the notes.

Public Stock Bank, Belvidere, Warren County;

The $2 note shown below is the first note ever recorded from this bank, which was chartered in the 1850's and lasted only a short time. It is a issued note, not a proof dated October 15, 1851, on the plate. The imprint is that of Danforth, Bald & Co., New York and Philada., predecessors to the American Bank Note Co. Judging from the number, A 6691, this note was part of a large issue, but where have they gone? The distinctive countersignature of Wm. J. Smith also appears on Wait # 2264, the $5 note of Union Bank of Toms River, which is illustrated in the catalog.

Morris Canal and Banking Co., Jersey City;

Many varieties of notes were issued by this firm, a canal company whose charter also gave it banking privileges. However, this "permit for tolls" is apparently unique. As stated on its face, it was to be accepted in payment of tolls on anthracite coal "at the rate of one cent per ton per mile", a sort of 19th century discount coupon. A view of a boat on one of the canal's many inclined planes is shown at the upper left of the note.
